

As a leading international industrial company with headquarters in Brig (Valais), we - the Société Suisse des Explosifs Group / Valsynthese – are specialize in the manufacture and marketing of civil explosives and pharmaceutical fine chemical products. We currently are looking for a

Group HR Manager (80 - 100%)

Main tasks:

- Development and implementation of a modern and standardized HR policy and processes at the SSE Group level
- Develop and lead the Group HR function
- Coordinate the recruitment process for group executives, ensure administrative management, and support the decision-making process
- Manage cross-functional HR projects across the Group, with support of internal and external resources
- Support the Group's subsidiaries in HR management
- Develop and implement an internal and external training policy at Group level.

Your profile:

- Previous professional experience of around ten years, ideally as an HR specialist or HR manager
- Recognized HR education (HR Generalist Diploma, Federal Certificate in Human Resources or other equivalent training)
- Ability to work independently and in a team
- Good listening and communication skills
- Self-control and able to manager confidentiality related to the requirements of the position
- Languages: fluent English, German and/or French a plus

We offer:

- A stimulating and dynamic work environment
- An international company on a human scale with a flat hierarchy
- First-rate social conditions

Apply directly online or via hr.ch@sse-group.com

